Definitions

Regular (Casting) Members:

Manufacturers of investment castings. Regular members vote on articles of incorporation and all matters and motions proposed at membership meetings, and for directors who are Regular members.

Associate (Casting) Members:

Manufacturers of investment castings outside North America, which is defined as Canada, Mexico, and the United States of America Associate Members shall not have a voting designate to vote at general meetings, are not eligible to attend Management Meetings but may vote on special assessments brought before the general assembly (please see bylaws for details).

At the time of application for membership, companies pay dues for one full year. At the next dues billing, the new member will be assessed for dues in full, less a prorated amount reflecting that period of the previous year during which the company was not an accepted member of the Institute. (The Institute's membership year is Jan.1-Dec. 31). Dues costs are determined by the Board of Directors.

Membership will be automatically renewed each year unless member requests cancellation in writing on or before Nov. 30 each year.
